

The Colorado 3,207 square feet

We named the Colorado after one of the most famous of all rivers, a 1,400-mile host to fine Western fisheries such as the San Juan, Gunnison, Roaring Fork and Frying Pan Rivers.

THE COLORADO

MAIN LEVEL FLOOR PLAN

UPPER LEVEL FLOOR PLAN

Perhaps the most unique of the Orvis Log Homes, the Colorado consists of two main living areas separated by a four-season screened-in porch with a fireplace, which is adjacent to the versatile Sportsman's Room. Ideal for two separate families, or a group of friends on a hunting or fishing trip, the Colorado is essentially two cabins brought together by a comfortable gathering space – warm in winter and cool and breezy in summer. One side of the Colorado has a full kitchen and living area along with bedroom suites on two levels. The other side has two bedroom suites and its own half kitchen, a crafts/project room, and utility areas, all on one level. Both areas offer equal access to the screened-in porch.
